

Miss Peaches Swimwear

July 17, 3:08 PM · Helga Douglas - LA Green Fashion Examiner

Miss Peaches is an eco forward company which produces fabulous swimwear, all made in the U.S.A. This company has implemented an “Eco-Friendly Initiative” where the designers are constantly searching for and applying the most cutting edge developments in printing processes and other innovations that help preserve the environment.

Their reversible swimwear is made from 80% polyester and 20% spandex and they are working on incorporating recycled polyester into their next line. Also, the fabric is printed using the revolutionary waterless eco-friendly Air Dye® process. This new manufacturing process helps to save the environment from the toxic waste generated from traditional textile dyeing.

For more information please visit www.misspeachesswimwear.com

Copyright 2009 Examiner.com. All rights reserved. This material may not be published, broadcast, rewritten or redistributed.

Author

Helga Douglas is an Examiner from Los Angeles. You can see Helga's articles at: "<http://www.Examiner.com/x-10217-LA-Green-Fashion-Examiner>"

